

Message from President & Sister McBride FIND JOY IN THE WORK

The quest for joy and happiness is a righteous desire. The Prophet Joseph Smith taught us that "happiness is the object and design of our existence."

The Lord has taught us what true joy is: "I will impart unto you of my spirit, which shall enlighten your mind, which shall fill your soul with joy. (D&C 11:13). Lasting joy is based upon our understanding of and living the gospel of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and enduring to the end. (See D&C 14:7)

Remember the words of Prophet, Howard W. Hunter, given to missionaries on September 13, 1994: "You can't be a part of worldly things and also carry out your role as a representative of the Lord. The two are not compatible. Your objective has been clearly defined for you. From the day you were set apart you were charged to not be of the world meaning that you were transferred then from worldly things into a spiritual climate for the duration of your mission.

"If you have found yourself in this new climate, you are on your way. If you haven't, then you've got some work to do. Satan is always present and will do everything he can to hinder and block and defeat. We encourage you as companionships to help each other in this matter.

"When missionary companions comply with this directive to be spiritual "two persons dedicated, living in faith, and being prayerful can be an awesome force in the work of the Lord."

We must be anchored in the knowledge that Jesus Christ lives and desire to become more like him. As missionaries we must work constantly to have a mighty change of heart through prayer, gospel study and by living the principles of the gospel.

Missionaries who follow the mission rules with exactness can pray for the constant companionship of the Holy Ghost with a clear conscience and find joy in the work.

Let us continue to find joy together in the work. My membership in this church has brought me more fun, more happiness and more joy that I ever could have imagined. All of us can have these blessings. They come by devoting ourselves to our missionary responsibilities, in being true representatives of Jesus

Christ as we serve those around us, by keeping his commandments, by loving the Lord with all our heart, soul, and mind, and by loving our neighbors as ourselves. Love, President McBride

"A striking personality and good character is achieved by practice, not merely by thinking it. Just as a pianist masters the intricacies of music through hours and weeks of practice, so mastery of life is achieved by the ceaseless practice of mechanics which make up the art of living. Daily unselfish service to others is one of the rudimentary mechanics of the successful life. 'For whosoever will save his life,' the Galilean said, 'shall lose it, and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.' (Matt: 16:25.) What a strange paradox this! And yet one needs only to analyze it to be convinced of its truth...Only when you lift a burden, God will lift your burden. Divine paradox this! The man who staggers and falls because his burden is too great can lighten that burden by taking on the weight of another's burden. You get by giving, but your part of giving must be given first." Spencer W. Kimball.

As missionaries we are, or should be, continually giving unselfish service to others. Whether it is to our companion, less-active, member or non-member, it makes no difference. It is not whom we serve but how we serve.

Do we serve with an eye single to the glory of God? Are we serving those around us because of our love for them? Are we serving because of our love for the Savior? If we are not serving for any of these reasons then we are not really serving. We are only going through the motions. Let us ask ourselves the question; Why am I here on a mission? It all begins with an abiding love for the Savior. When we are doing all in our power to develop this love then we will be serving for the right reason.

Let us not waste this precious time given to us to serve the people of the Utah Ogden Mission. But may we continually work to develop an abiding love for our Savior that our burdens may be lightened.

Love, Sister McBride

ASSISTANT'S MESSAGE

Aloha Elders and Sisters,

What a beautiful month we have just had. We ended up bringing 178 souls unto Christ through the ordinance of baptism. We have seen the power pyramid in effect. To what degree, is the next question. Are we doing everything in our power to be what the Lord wants us to be? Are we taking every opportunity to be successful? We have found many methods to help us be successful in this mission. But to be truly effective we need to plan. With all these methods and ways of finding, we need to turn it into productivity by planning effectively. Planning our day out in detail. Finding the most effective times to use certain finding techniques. Such as the ever so critical tools of tracting, using the Finding Records and of course backing them both up with our faith. Are we visualizing the people we contact in white? When you're out tracting, are you stepping into every door with faith? Or if they're busy, are you using the sampler? There's a lot of people who are just waiting to hear the word but don't know where to find it (D&C 123:12). Elder Gene R. Cook talks a lot about faith. Just recently we have gotten revisions upon the ever so successful "Proselyting for the Elect." As we all know the Spirit is the great converter and the main force behind this inspired proselyting method. Let's get out there, do it, and "rejoice, for the hour of your mission is come (D&C 31:3)!"

CONVERSION STORY

I had just been transferred to the Roy area and was going out with the Assistant's. Elder Rausch and I went to apologize to a father, who a month ago the missionaries had taught his 18 year old son and committed him, but his son hadn't told his father and his dad found out through a neighbor. When the missionaries went to teach the son the next lesson, the father came over and threatened the missionaries saying if they came near his son again he would break their necks, and that was the last contact missionaries had with him.

Elder Rausch and I prayed and went over to see the father and before I could apologize to him, he said he was sorry and that he didn't mind us teaching his son, Tyler, only he wanted us to teach at his house so he would know what his son was being taught. The first time we went to teachTyler, I asked what happened to soften his dad and he said he had been fasting for his father and praying and a lot of changes had happened.

Then Tyler bore his testimony to me. He told me how his friend had given him a Book of Mormon and that is was the greatest gif t he had ever received. Tyler spend one whole day reading it. He had skipped school to read it and kept it hid under his bed to read at night with a flashlight. His testimony was so strong. He was just so excited. Then at his baptism as he came out of the water he was crying. Afterwards he gave his father a hug and his whole family had tears in their eyes. His father told me to not be surprised when the rest of the family follows.

This is only one of many wonderful experiences. Thank you very much President and Sister McBride.

Elders and Sisters: Prepare to receive the spirit by clean- ing your apartment and your car on Preparation Day.

The Eye's A Better Student
The eye's a better student and more willing than the ear.
Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear,
And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds,
For to see the good in action is what everybody needs.
I can soon learn how you do it, if you'll let me see it done.
I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fast may run;
And the lectures you deliver may be wise and true.
But I'd rather get my lesson by observing what you do.
For I may not understand you and the high advice you give;
But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.
